Children in Need 2023
Friday, 17th of November 2023

Dear Parent/Guardian,

This Friday, 17th of November, the school community will be coming together to raise funds for the annual Children in Need appeal. Learners will have a non-uniform day to raise funds for the charity, with an expected contribution of £1 per pupil (50p should they have a sibling at the school). This year's theme for Children in Need is spots, and although it is a non-uniform day, we would kindly remind parents to ensure that learners are dressed appropriately for school.

In addition to the non-uniform day, coffee mornings will be held during breaktime, so learners can bring extra money to school should they wish to contribute to this event.

The appeal carries extra significance this year at Bryn Tawe following the tragic loss of our sixth form pupil, Emily Williams, in September of this year. It was touching to hear how charities like Children in Need support families and students like Emily, who face the most difficult and challenging of circumstances. Indeed, as a school community, we are fortunate that Children in Need have funded a grief counsellor to support our learners during these difficult times. It is therefore heartening to hear of our sixth form's plans to organise a range of activities during the day to pay their own tributes to Emily, which include fancy dress for sixth formers and a screening of Emily's favourite film.

We, therefore, kindly ask all learners to contribute to this appeal on Friday. Please feel free to get in touch should you have any questions in relation to these arrangements.

Many thanks,

Mr Chris Shaw (Assistant Headteacher)
